Mid-Nov. For Group On Labor

BELLE GLADE — Mid-November is when Rep. Emmett S. Roberts will call an organization meeting of the newly-created state migrant labor advisory committee, Roberts said yesterday.

Tuesday, Gov. Leroy Collins created by executive order the committee to help solve Florida's growing migrant problem. He named Roberts as temporary chairman to get the committee together and working.

The state representative said he wants to call the group together next month and "get it thinking" before the Christmas holidays. He plans to call the meeting in Orlando, in view of the fact that a central location is needed because of the citrus industry representatives and state officials from Tallahassee and Jacksonville.

Mrs. Ruth Wedgworth, of Belle Glade; Jeff Davis, of Homestead; and Luther Chandler, of Miami, are the South Florida members of the 12-person committee.

Collins, in his executive order, asked the committee to coordinate the work of the many agencies already involved in the migrant problem, and consider for possible solution the present difficulties.

Roberts said he expects the committee to be a liaison group for the various agencies, and that he foresees possible sub-committee hearings on the migrant problem in the several areas concerned.

Transmigrant progress has been made in the migrant labor field since the migrant camps originated, but we still have trouble spots springing up, and cooperation is needed to remedy the situations," Roberts said.

He noted that the governor's creation of the committee presents a challenge to the group to come up with some good standards for the ultimate benefit of the 50,000-60,000 migrants who come annually to Florida.

Although the governor gave the group until prior to the meeting of the 1957 legislature, Roberts said "We will need plenty of time to do the job," and predicted that the year and a half remaining until the next legislative session would be a comparatively short period for the committee to do its work.

Salk Vaccine 1-15 Advised

The Florida Advisory Committee for Salk Vaccine advises that all children of the ages of one year to 15 years inclusive be given the Salk vaccine for prevention of polio. In the past children five to nine years were inoculated with the serum. The committee also advises pregnant mothers to have the vaccine. All local doctors are reported to have supplies of the vaccine available now.

PARRISH IS NEW C-C PRESIDENT

PAHOKEE — F. S. Parrish was elected president of the Pakokee Chamber of Commerce for the coming year, Monday night at the annual directors' dinner.

William S. Plumer was elected vice president, Mrs. Clark Wilkinson, treasurer, and Mrs. Alma W. Farrow, board secretary. Mrs. Mae Pope was retained as executive secretary.

At the meeting and election, presided over by outgoing President M. P. Stanley, new Directors Wilkinson, C. A. Batchelor, Olat Boe, Louis Gold, and Jack Spencer were welcomed.

Director Lewis Friend, speaking as both mayor and C-C director, said he recommended two projects for the coming year be considered—the final establishment of a Glades sub-court-house, and investigation of the proposed North Florida ship canal with the object in view of getting any designated appropriations switched to the ready built Cross-State Waterway serving South Florida through Lake Okeechobee.

Stanley commended the board for its work during its administration, and urged an early membership drive in 1956 to insure success and achievement of the financial goal. Parrish said he agreed, and would begin work on the next membership campaign planning as soon as members could be appointed.

Miss Bette Pickett and Mrs. A. M. Okie were guests, invited for their service and loyalty to the C-C, Stanley noted.

C-C Discusses Fair Future

BELLE GLADE — Directors of the Chamber of Commerce discussed the pros and cons of another Everglades Fair at their regular meeting Tuesday night. Dale Ellis reported on the meeting of the Legion fair committee which he attended, and said two major points were made for consideration of all civic groups and merchants: Is the fair wanted, and is a new fair set-up wanted?

President R. W. Lanier presided over the director's session. Committees are to be appointed after the mail returns from members on their committee preferences. Secretary Edwin Young reported, Sam Knight was named to investigate changing or counteracting by another sign the US 441 sign at Canal Point which is directing tourists away from Pakokee and Belle Glade.

A post-box will be placed on the C-C corner for the convenience of travelers, the board heard, and pastors will be approached about having their churches pictured on postcards to be given free to travelers stopping at the C-C offices.

Low-Rent Govt. Houses Still Hope In Pakokee

PAHOKEE — This city will get another chance at federal low-rent housing, if City Council takes action to re-affirm the housing need at its Monday night meeting.

The Pakokee Housing Authority was notified this week by the Public Housing Administration regional office in Atlanta that the old housing act expired two years ago still will apply if City Council takes the necessary action.

25% INCREASE IN MKT. '54-'55

BELLE GLADE — A 25% increase in business at Glades Livestock Market in the past year was reported to market association members at their annual meeting Tuesday night.

President John L. Evans said that since May 12, 1950, when the market opened, each quarter shows increased business over the same previous quarter.

Dr. E. J. Graham, of Pakokee, and Otto Larsen, Clewiston, were elected new directors, and Leland C. Pearce was re-elected for another term.

Dr. Graham was named to fill the remaining year of the term of Thurmond Knight, who resigned because he is out of the cattle business and now has many other interests was accepted "with reluctance" by the directors.

Directors heard the report that Fritz Stein declined to accept the nomination for another term as director, due to his illness. Larsen was elected to that directorship.

The 40 members present for the meeting were told that more than $8,000 has been paid the membership in cash refunds, over and above the 8% cash dividends. Mrs. Joe Cherry served refreshments in the market restaurant at the close of the meeting.

There were 102 interviews from a total enrollment of 165 students, representing 62% participation in the new program. The teachers feel that much good has been accomplished through the interviews since the parents have gained a much better understanding of their child and his work in school, and the teachers expressed gratitude for the wholehearted interest and cooperation of the parents, Morris said.

Another Parent-Teacher Conference Day is scheduled to be held next April.

Bible & Atom Book By Todd

PAHOKEE — "Atomic Energy Plus," an atomic interpretation of the Bible, is a new work by Charles Mack Todd, manager of Pakokee State Farmers Market and longtime prominent local resident.

The book, published by College Publishing Co. of Dayton, Ohio, will be released in November, Todd reported this week.

In it, the author applies facts of atomic energy to the Bible, pointing out the Biblical predictions about the atomic bomb and atomic energy, and citing how they were created. Todd said, on the subject of relating the Bible and the modern atomic concept, "I believe the Bible in its entirety... I am a fundamentalist in both politics and religion. To be a modernist, to me, is but to occupy the middle step between Fundamentalism and Communism."

PAHOKEE'S HULL Packing Co. shipped the first rail car of produce to move from the Glades this year, as corn came in. L-r, Charles and Ellis Wilkinson are shown inspecting the Golden State from Section 15, which brought $3.25 - $3.50, the company reported.

FLORIDA:— PILOTS' SUP-
PORT—An expression of confidence from the Air Line Pilots Association has been sent by Clarence N. Sayen, president, and I am deeply grateful for it.

Mr. Sayen wrote: "The members of the Air Line Pilots Association, and its affiliates, who reside in Florida have expressed a concern over the forthcoming senatorial election in that state and the lack of any knowledge that you will be a candidate for re-election."

"We have closely followed your work as a member of the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee and have noted with pleasure the very fine work you have done in promoting and developing civil aviation."

"This is written to urge you to enter the race for re-election as United States Senator for the State of Florida and to that end we again pledge you our whole-hearted support."

It is, of course, too early to be discussing re-election. But this offer of support from the pilots is one which I deeply appreciate.

We recently addressed the convention of the Florida Fruit & Vegetable Association, the Gladioli Growers, the Federation of Women's Clubs, the Associated Air Lines, the Florida Eastern Airlines annual banquet, and the American Legion Convention. It was a week packed with activity in the great Metropolitan area of the lower East Coast. The city was crowded with convention visitors, including thousands of Legionnaires, football fans there to see the Miami-Notre Dame game, and the winter tourists—gathered thousands of people in the convention groups and made television appearances over WTVJ, WTVT, and WGBS.

My talks covered a broad range of problems, issues and developments. I traced the growth of Florida agriculture before the fruit and vegetable growers, and made reports on the Congress to the Federation of Women and the Gladioli Growers. I enjoyed kidding the agricultural groups on the rustic setting of their convention in the multi-million dollar Fontainebleau Hotel on Miami Beach.

Before the Associated Industries group, I stressed the challenge which the great trek of newcomers to Florida is bringing to establish industry and business, and said it was essential that our new citizens find economic opportunity.

Addressing the National Security Committee of the American Legion, I received a really heart warming response to my plea that the United States exert every effort to maintain air supremacy over the Soviet.

At a banquet for Eastern Airlines executives, I stressed the role of aviation in Florida's mushrooming economy and said that Florida, gateway between the Americas of the North and South, would assume naturally a role of leadership in aviation in the hemisphere.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS—A hint of what's to come was given this week in Chicago by Congressman Dante Fascell, up from Miami to speak before the National Editorial Association. Fascell said, "Newspapers should be given access to all legitimate news that doesn't involve national security. It is a bad thing for Government agencies to cover up mistakes or might back information that might be unpleasant on the grounds that it is confidential information."

Fascell was invited to speak because he is a member of a special three-man committee of the House Government Operations Committee charged with investigating complaints of newsmen over Government "censorship." Fascell explained that so many cases had come before the committee that it would be next to impossible to get all of them to be investigated. Biggest complaint of newsmen in Washington is that agency heads often classify information as "confidential" when it might uncover a mistake or reflect against some high official. This practice is strictly against Presidential executive order, but is common throughout most branches of the government. This expedient, mistakes, bad judgment or down right wrongdoing can be covered up.

While Fascell's committee isn't expected to free a great flood of "security information" their work undoubtedly will open the doors of a few closets full of skeletons. Question: is his committee strong enough to do it? Made up of John E. Moss, Jr. (Cal.), Clare E. Hoffman (Mich.) and Fascell, the committee certainly will make daily headlines when they start hearing here in November. Keep your eye out for this one.

SS MAXIMUM NOW AT $4200

Employers and employees are reminded that the maximum wages from which the social security deduction is made has increased to $4,200 for 1955 and succeeding years, by R. C. Gehrkens, district manager of the West Palm Beach social security office.

Gehrkens said that the increase in wage credits thus established would mean higher maximum benefits in the future for retired workers and their dependents or for the survivor of these workers in case of death. The $3,600 maximum allowed before 1955 permitted maximum monthly benefits of $98.50 to a retired worker while the new $4,200 maximum can mean $108.50 to insured employed or self-employed persons retiring after mid-1956.

All employees who earn wages of more than $3,600 in a calendar year should make certain that the maximum is by being reported for them by their employers. Gehrkens continued, by checking their pay slips or by checking with their employers.

Pits, schmits.
Strictly for people — the pit of gloom.
I have been off my feed (imagine) long enough, due to a set of very queer circumstances which had best not be explained at this time.

But this week the old dish is calling again — so I must be okay.

Therefore I offer an apology for my wanton disregard of human rights to read my profound thoughts.

And as some fat man on TV says: "Away we go."

Just try to stop me.
Anybody trying?

It takes an awful lot of green beans to make a season, and now that we are off to another growing period, I am compelled to view this fact with alarm.

Admittedly, I will eat anything. Except collard greens, that is. One night I had a delicious dish of left-over tossed salad and collards. Probably that's the first time any dog tossed collards, too.

But about the beans — by the end of every season, when my mealy breakfast gets dished up, I just hope and hope that it will be some dull, standard, canned dog food.

Consider Oct. — May of left-over green beans six mornings a week, and then tapering to three mornings a week during the summer when the freezer's producing.

It puts a strain beyond endurance on a dog's loyalty.

If I bite the hand that feeds me green beans, I am not only going to get bitten in return, but I am accused of not backing up my dog.

On the other hand, if I just avert my eyes and turn from my dish, right away I am accused of not feeling well and am given some health-giving medicine.

That's the beginning-of-a-season situation for me: Do I eat green beans endlessly, or do I run the risk of medication? Oh, for a big slug of chopped onions!

FIFTH GRADE VOLUNTEERS MEET

Mrs. Fred C. White, intermediate Girl Scout program consultant, met Tuesday afternoon with a group of volunteers for the Belle Glade fifth grade intermediate troop at the home of the troop leader, Mrs. Peter LaChance.

Others attending were Mrs. Myrtle Tabit, Mrs. E. A. McCabe, Mrs. Cullley Collins, and Mrs. James A. Ball, Jr. The group made plans for troop meetings and other activities for the rest of October, November and December. This troop meets Thursday afternoons, and this week had a program on "Troop Dramatics," under the leadership of Mrs. Ball. Next week, they will meet with Mrs. Tabit and plan for an outdoor meeting.

"The social security administration also advises all workers to check on their wage records each five years. Past card records are available at all social security offices for this purpose," Mr. Gehrkens added.

HEALTH HORIZONS

Butcher's Bill Includes Tribute to Parasites

Although the housewife is not aware of it, part of each dollar she spends for meat goes in tribute to tiny parasites which infest livestock farms.

Scientists seeking more effective means of control report that parasites claim the lives of one animal out of every 20 raised.

In dollars, swine losses alone have been estimated at $279,000,000 annually. Cattle raisers calculate their losses at 2,000,000,000 pounds of meat valued at approximately $200,000,000.

Part of the problem, that of internal parasites in hogs, may be near solution. A substance called parax, a combination of two drugs, chloroquine and carbon disulphide, has been found to be a non-poisonous, killing the parasite, tascard, which is responsible for $75,000,000 a year damage to swine.

Many old remedies for internal parasite control were poisonous. Farmers believed they would do as much harm as good. Hence their use was confined to extreme cases of infestation.

Animal husbandry experts say all swine should be treated for internal parasites after the weaning of all hogs — and bring about the practical farmer difficult to convince.

The advent of parax, which contains some of the same substances used in controlling worms in children, finally may establish the practice of routine treatment of all hogs — and bring about a $75,000,000 saving in the national butcher's bill.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Tie This One For Consideration—

Closed the office early last Saturday to go after phossus. Pops Foster. I used fewer shells than the old gentleman and took home more birds — but because I did better shooting.

I borrowed a dog for the occasion. Pops took along Blue, his ancient pointer. Several times I noticed Pops walk up to a clump of bushes Blue had pointed at and fire into the air. But he hadn't flushed a single bird.

Naturally, I wanted to know why. "Well," he said sheepishly, "I've been hunting with that dog for 11 seasons. His nose isn't much help any more — but I'd rather waste a shell than let him know."

From where I sit, Pops always shows consideration for people, too. For instance, this is a small town. Pops knows that I visit him though he never takes anything but coffee himself. Even if he doesn't agree with me on a matter of personal choice (which is his right) he'd rather not make a "point" of letting me know.

'LONE TROOPS' ON WAY OUT

Glades' "lone troops" of Girl Scouts, operating on a yearly basis, will be eliminated if the groups are brought into area councils set up by the national Scout organization to serve urban and rural populations, Mrs. Gretchen Kidd told a Scout organization meeting last week at Pahokee high school library.

Mrs. Kidd, Florida community advisor for the Girl Scouts of America, was guest speaker Thursday at a meeting of civic club and Scout steering committee representatives.

Mrs. Clyde Canipe was chairman in charge of the meeting, and introduced Mrs. Marshall DeWitt of Delray Beach, chairman of the steering committee, who introduced Mrs. Kidd.

To give Girl Scouting in any community, a group needs to have a genuine interest in children, must have volunteers, both through understanding, and through financial contributions, Mrs. Kidd said.

Plans Under Way
She spoke about plans now being worked out by the steering committee whereby all girls would be in a council serving the area, and said that on national scale, plans are under way to eliminate the "lone troop" plan, which is the way Scouting has been handled locally. Reasons for eliminating this type of organization include the fact that lone troops at best provide only a skeletal program, often lacking in continuity, with untrained leaders having to carry the burden of administration without local help.

Under an area council a better program is provided, Mrs. Kidd said, because it is possible to provide trained leadership, a professional staff is available to help and advise leaders, established camps and activities are available to all girls, and there is an office providing services such as troop registration, libraries of reference material, and handling of supplies.

Each community belonging to the council will have financial responsibility to provide a pro-rated share of an operating budget worked out by representatives of all the communities involved, and to provide this financial support through fundraising drives, according to Mrs. Kidd.

Attending were Mrs. Josephine A. Phillips, Mrs. Curtis Russom, Mrs. Edna Wilder, Mrs. Evelyn Lair, Mrs. E. L. Pope, C. W. Orr, and Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Johnson of Pahokee; Mrs. A. J. Heldt of Canal Point; Mrs. Lucien Birdseye of Palm Beach, secretary-treasurer of the steering committee; Mrs. George LeGros, Mrs. James Wierento, T. E. Hollingsworth, Rev. U. W. Malcolm, Rev. J. Dighton Scott, Mrs. Robert J. Allen, Jr., and Dr. Robert J. Allen, Jr., who is vice-chairman of the steering committee, from Belle Glade.

HOUSING DIRECTOR IS PAHOKEE BPW SPEAKER

James W. Vann, executive director of the Pahokee Housing Authority, Tuesday night told members of the Pahokee Business & Professional Women's Club of the life and times of the three PHA camps since they have been under local authority.

He described how the federal Government was losing some half-million dollars a year on its eight Florida camps when in 1947 the Florida legislature passed an act creating municipal housing authorities to be activated as the need arose.

Pahokee Housing Authority was established in October 1947, after City Council declared the need for continuation of the USDA camps. The camps have carried on for eight years and two days, since then, at no expense to the local taxpayers and with no additional help from the federal government beyond the original rehabilitation money from unexpended budget funds.

Citing the high average of rent collections at the camps, and the growing population of year-around residents, Vann also noted that 50 cents a week is added to the rent of each owner of a television set. He said there are 18 TV sets in the white camp and a total of 17 in the two Negro camps under PHA.

Mrs. Dorothy Graham, chairman of the news service, radio and TV committee, presented Vann. The BPW meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Lucile Johnson, with Mrs. Doris Carter as co-hostess. President Betty Pickett presided over the business session, which consisted of plans for the club's hamburger stand at the PTA carnival.

Football Takes Devils To 'Chobee, Rams Await Lake Worth At Home

Pahokee, breathing heavily on Vero Beach's first place in the Suncoast conference, foots it to Okeechobee tonight, and Belle Glade hosts Lake Worth at home.

PAHOKEE 23, SEACREST 6

The Blue Devils remained in the position of leader in the Suncoast conference Friday night, as they slugged Seacrest of Vero Beach.

Fullback Weldon Cardin passed to Chat Clark in the first quarter, and the latter zoomed 73 yards for the first touchdown, with Pat Turville making the point. In the second quarter, Turville, Dick Weeks and Earl Meredith operated together to knock off another TD. Clark broke up some Seacrest plans in the third quarter when he intercepted a pass, Cardin took over, and Buddy Parker did the rest for yet another TD. Then Turville made his third extra point. The fourth score came in the last quarter, in which the Seahawks also scored, when Parker ripped along diagonally for 30 yards and made the TD, then accounted for the point.

POLICE EYEING THEFT SUSPECTS

PAHOKEE — The police investigation of the Sunday night robbery of Jack Spencer's market turned this week toward several white youths. Police Chief Leon Guthrie said yesterday.

He and Deputy Sheriff Frank O'Connell are working on the case.

Early Monday morning, at about the time Roselle Wilson found the blasted safe in one of his corn fields, Spencer opened his store and discovered the safe and its contents, including $1,018 in cash, missing.

Spencer said he had been working on his books at the store, Sunday afternoon, and had left a number of checks ready to deposit with the cash, as well as his account books, in the safe. The robbers obtained entry by boring holes in the back door and unlatching it. Spencer said they apparently had tried to move the safe into the large refrigerator to blow it, but couldn't get it through the window, so they transported it to Wilson's field.

THINGS TO TALK ABOUT

By FRANKLIN J. MEINE
Editor, American People Encyclopedia

About four out of five Americans live on farms a century ago today, because of technical advances, only one out of seven persons is needed to produce our farm products.

THE "FACE OF AMERICA" THROUGHOUT THE CENTURY WAS A FARMER. A MAN WHO LIVED AND WORKED ON A FARM. A MAN WHO PRODUCED THE FOOD THAT KEPT THE NATION GOING.

Today, the farmer is still the backbone of our nation. He produces the food that keeps us alive. He produces the raw materials that we use to make our clothes, our homes, and our cars.

Without the farmer, we would starve. Without the farmer, we would have no clothes to wear. Without the farmer, we would have no homes to live in. Without the farmer, we would have no cars to drive.

So, let us all respect the farmer. Let us all thank the farmer. Let us all love the farmer. For without the farmer, we would not be here today.

Hospital Gives Reel Tells How

PAHOKEE — Everglades Memorial Hospital gives to the community it serves some 22-2% in charity services and more than $75,000 in payroll and insurances. Administrator Jesse Reel told the Rotary Club's luncheon meeting yesterday.

Discussing what the hospital does for the community, and what the community can do for the hospital, Reel said that the benefits work both ways. Increased revenues amounting to $27,000 in the past year are an indication that public confidence and interest in EMH are growing, he said.

Reel paid tribute to the efforts of the four doctors using the hospital, and attributed much of its growth to them. With his administration drawing to a close, he expressed his thanks to the public, the board, the employees, and to the church and civic groups who have helped the hospital during his 15 months' tenure.

B. Elliott presided over the meeting introduced Reel as a good Rotarian and a good member of the community. The Rotarians joined in song to recognize the birth of a son last night to Rotarian and Mrs. Elsworth Keen, at the local hospital.
